

EXTENT

HERITAGE ADVISORS
TO AUSTRALIA AND THE ASIA PACIFIC

QUEEN VICTORIA MARKET

THE PROJECT

Over a period of years Extent Heritage has been engaged to provide cultural heritage and archaeological services to inform the renewal of the Queen Victoria Market (QVM), a place included on the National Heritage List partly for its role as the Old Melbourne Cemetery. Our involvement has included the management of both historical and Aboriginal heritage values. With regards to Aboriginal cultural heritage, the site is particularly significant for containing the remains of Aboriginal people from across Victoria and Tasmania (and perhaps from elsewhere).

SERVICES

- Heritage Advice
- Design Review
- Cultural Values
- Historical Archaeology
- Indigenous Archaeology
- Engagement Strategies

VALUE UNLOCKED

We are proud of the role that we have played in ensuring the dignified and respectful management of the Aboriginal heritage and historical archaeological values embodied by the QVM. Our work has resulted in the place's heritage values being communicated and understood so that appropriate processes are in place to protect them, while assisting the City of Melbourne to design and deliver its renewal program.

